Developing Internal Lean Leaders

Lean Experts are internal technical resources within a company, who help identify lean opportunities, and train and develop others. The Lean Expert is capable of guiding and coaching the implementations of various Lean projects, through cross-functional teams and Kaizen events.

Participants who previously graduated from Leanovations Lean Leadership Certification was recognized by the State of Connecticut CCAT, after conducting Kaizen Events along with mentoring and coaching from Leanovations.

LLC 4 DAY OBJECTIVE

Lean Leadership Certification (LLC)

This Leanovations Certification program is for professionals leading Lean initiatives for their organizations, who want to equip themselves with the skills necessary to be an effective change agent and Lean implementer. The 4-Day program consists of hands-on, simulation-based exercises that present Lean concepts, principles, tools and techniques. All four days of the class will be at clients of Leanovations and companies recognized as Lean Leaders in Connecticut. The participants will tour and hear from many members of these organizations on what it really takes to develop a Lean Learning Culture, assisting the business to create profitable growth.

The program is highly interactive where the participants must practice what they learn in the training, this is not just classroom lectures and theory. Fred Shamburg, President of Leanovations is a "National Shingo Prize Examiner" has taught and led Lean transformations globally.

Leanovations Teaches Lean and Kaizen following these 14 Principles

1. Base your decisions on a long-term philosophy about customer value
2. Create continuous flow
3. Use "pull" systems where flow is not possible
4. Level out the workload, eliminating overburden to people and equipment
5. Build a culture of stopping to fix problems to get quality right
6. Use stable, repeatable methods – standardize
7. Use simple visual indicators to help people realize when there is a problem
8. Use only reliable, thoroughly tested technology and employ that technology to support people, not replace them
9. Grow leaders from within rather than reaching outside for executives
10. Develop exceptional people and teams that follow your company's philosophy
11. Respect your extended network of partners and suppliers
12. Observe "Go and see" for yourself to thoroughly understand a situation
13. Make decisions slowly, by consensus
14. Become a learning organization through relentless reflection and continuous improvement

What past graduates have to say about Leanovations Lean Leadership Certification Program.

- Kevin Gregoire, V.P. & General Manager of Precision Punch:
"Leanovations has been instrumental in helping me understand what it really takes to be successful in accomplishing a Lean Culture. I have and will continue to recommend Leanovations to all of our partners and none of our competitors."
- Andy Martin, Quality and Lean Manager and Nate Rzasa, Lean Trainer at Specialty Printing:
"Leanovations Lean Leadership program was instrumental in helping us learn the tools and techniques of continuous improvement and how to apply those foundations at our company which provided new profitable growth through Lean."
- Jim Morace, Business Unit Manager at Zygo Corporation: "Leanovations training was a great program of hands on and classroom theory put into practice. Visiting Leanovations Clients was excellent and gave me examples I needed to assist Zygo to get to the next level of our Lean transformation"
- Ray Lampron, Lean Leader GKN Structures Aerospace: "The Leanovations LLC Program was a great opportunity to see the tools of Lean in action at other facilities."
- Jessica Mitchell, Lean Leader, The Willington Companies: "Leanovations philosophy and approach separates them from other consultants. They get all employees engaged and excited. They rally all of us and promote the spirit to approach opportunities for continuous improvement. Our lean journey is continuous as is our partnership and relationship with Leanovations"
